Copyright and scope

© 2026 Myke Black. All rights reserved. These terms apply to the free Gollops Star: the board game downloads, including rulebooks, cards, tiles, tokens, artwork, layouts and any supplied 3D model files, to the extent the relevant rights are owned or controlled by Myke Black. Downloading a file does not transfer ownership.

What you may do

You may download and keep copies, make backup copies, and reproduce the materials for your own personal, non-commercial play, including play with friends and family. This includes making paper components and 3D-printing any supplied models. You may make private adjustments for your own play or accessibility needs. Keep copyright and licence notices with your digital copies.

What you may not do without written permission

You may not sell, rent, sublicense or otherwise commercially exploit the downloaded files or copies made from them, including printed game components and 3D-printed models. You may not use the text, artwork, layouts, models or other supplied assets in products for sale, paid downloads or commercial services. You may not republish, re-upload or distribute the files, extracted assets or modified versions, whether free or paid. You may not remove ownership notices, claim the materials as your own work, or use the game name or branding to imply that your own product is authorised. Share a link to the official download page instead of sharing the files.

Personal printing services

You may provide files to a print shop or 3D-printing service solely to make your personal copies. That provider may charge for its printing service, but may not retain the files beyond fulfilling your order, use them for other customers, offer the game or models for sale, or redistribute them.

Rights retained

This is a limited personal-use licence, not an open-source or Creative Commons licence. All rights not expressly granted are reserved. Identified third-party material remains subject to its own rights and licence terms. Nothing here creates copyright in material that is not protected by law or restricts uses that applicable law permits without permission.

Other uses

Commercial use, public redistribution and uses outside this licence require prior written permission from Myke Black. Contact the rights holder through the official Gollops Star website: https://gollopsstar.com/. Licence version 1, issued 12 November 2026.
